C A L L F O R P A P E R S

The Inter-American Journal of Philosophy (IJP) is a peer-reviewed biannual online journal of philosophy dedicated to publishing high quality, scholarly, and original articles by international scholars in philosophy. IJP is the very first journal of philosophy devoted to inter-American philosophy with an inter-American editorial board that includes prominent philosophers from North, Central, and South Americas. Our goal is to help bridge the gap in philosophy between the Americas by fostering a new philosophical dialogue, and inform readers of some of the leading-edge work in philosophy in all of the Americas.

Some of the features of the IJP site are:

- Content available in English, Spanish and Portuguese.
- IJP is a public forum to share & post news about publications, books, reviews, news, upcoming events and conferences.
- Helpful links to videos, images, and other philosophy sites.

The journal seeks to publish articles focused on past, present and possible future philosophical connections between philosophers and philosophic traditions in different parts of the Americas. Examples of topics include:

- (1) North American and Latin American Philosophy: the mutual influence of philosophy done in the north and the south or a fruitful comparison of the philosophical insights of prominent philosophers on both sides of the continent.
- (2) Latin American Philosophers on Past and Present Philosophical Traditions: examination and elaboration of the important contributions of philosophers in Latin America to past and present problems in the Analytic and Continental traditions.
- (3) Philosophers on the common ideals and common socio-political problems of the Americas
  - (a) Democracy: its Nature and its Problems in the Americas
  - (b) How can philosophy contribute to the amelioration of the common problems of North and South America?
- (4) Philosophical ideas and debates about the identity of the Americas and their ideal relationship.
- (5) Philosophy of technology and science in the Americas
- (6) Environmental Ethics in the Americas
